CHIEF DISTRICT JUDGE WINMILL RECEIVES IDAHO STATE BAR AWARD

Boise, Idaho—

On July 14, 2004, Chief District Judge B. Lynn Winmill received a special award from the Advocate Editorial Advisory Board, for the best article in the Advocate during the past year. His article, Brown v. Board of Education: the Legacy and the Promise, was published in the May, 2004, Advocate.

Roger Cockerille, the Advocate Board Chair stated that: “Your thoughtful review of the Brown issues and their meaning was moving and inspiring to the readers.” The award is presented on the basis of the best written article which is clear, concise and interesting.

Chief District Judge Winmill was appointed as a United States District Judge in 1995 by President Clinton and has served as Chief Judge of the District Court since July, 1999.
